

For a small island, Ireland packs a serious punch! With so much To See and Do, it is easy to get overwhelmed, frustrated and fearful that you will miss the really good stuff. Which are often not the Big Box Tickers although the Cliffs of Moher, the Giant's Causeway, the Guinness Storehouse and Newgrange are all included here, because apart from being excellent, they are invariably on every Visitors Bucket List. But what about those you might not have heard of like the Museum of Country Life (free) the Beara Peninsula (like Ireland was some 30 or 40 years ago) or the Museum of Treasures in Waterford (that would give any Guggenheim a run for its money) to name just a couple of sample recommendations in this Ireland Travel Guide. Divided into 10 different categories ranging from the Best Scenic Drives to Wicked Castles and Sacred Celtic Sites, it lists the Top 10 in each, as well as 10 Hidden Gems at each location that you won't find in any other guide book. But then again, most other guides are not written by an Irish author who knows Ireland like the back of her hand. I have also personally vetted each one of the following recommendations in terms of a quality and value for money, otherwise they wouldn't be in this guide. And, I have narrowed it down to the Top 10 to make it easier for you to choose as I know your time here is probably limited, believe me a lifetime is too short to see all of Ireland. But wouldn't you prefer to visit just one or two really cool castles, see the most fantastic scenery and have a genuine cultural experience of Ireland rather than fall into any of the regular tourist traps. They do exist, even in Ireland, but you won't find them in this guide. There are places included here that are gloriously free from the madding crowds that few Irish, never mind tourists, actually ever get to see, the genuine Hidden Gems of Ireland Susan Byron author of www.irelands-hidden-gems.com. Highlights include... Top 10 Landscapes - Scenery to Sea Top 10 Sacred Places - Sorcery to Sanctity Top 10 Castles to Conquer - Bold Knights of Old Top 10 Irish Stately Homes - Ireland's Big Houses Top 10 National Parks - Mountains, Loughs and Heather Top 10 Gardens - Manicured Green Perfection Top 10 Museums - Bog bodies and Golden Hordes Top 10 Art Galleries See Ireland through Artists Eyes. Top 10 Cultural / Traditional Sites Ignite Your Irish Flame Also included are Susan Byron's trademark listing of 10 other Hidden Gems at each location, which often include old abbeys, castles, holy wells, fairy forts, high crosses, standing stones and other unknown or long forgotten places that are all part of Ireland's rich, cultural heritage and colourful history. There are cliff top and woodland walks, breath-taking national parks, secluded beaches, photographic opportunities, picnic stops as well as recommendations on where to enjoy a good pint of Guinness, an Irish Coffee or a Hot Whiskey in front of an open fire or a sea view with some traditional Irish music, dancing or story telling going on in the background. Tried and trusted lunch and dinner stops en-route are also included as well as some extra special places to stay in the locality, although you will find a more comprehensive selection in Irelands Hidden Gems - an insiders guide 2016 also available on Amazon. Finally, as an added bonus if you buy any of my eBooks and are prepared to write me an (honest) review (25 words will do) I will send you a free Ready Made Itinerary of your choice worth $99. Just email me a link to the review that you have posted on Amazon and let me know which package you would prefer, either the Classic package or the Bed and Breakfast version and I will send it you by return. Susan Byron is an Irish Travel writer / photographer, born in Dublin but now living on the West coast of Ireland in County Clare.
