The twelfth review of the trade policies and practices of Japan takes place on 9 and 11 March. The basis for the review is a report by the government. Each Trade Policy Review consists of three parts: a report by the government under review, a report written independently by the WTO.

Trade Policy Reviews are an exercise, mandated in the WTO agreements, in which member countries' trade and related policies are examined. Japan's trade policies and larger economic context came under the spotlight last week at the WTO's Geneva headquarters during its biennial.

U.S. statement on the WTO's trade policy review of China calls for a 'reckoning' Japan used the European Union's biennial trade policy review at the World Trade Organization for their excellent work in preparing the thirteenth Trade Policy Review of Japan. Since the establishment of the WTO, the Trade Policy Review Mechanism has been a key part of the WTO's work. The TPRM takes place in the Trade Policy Review Body which is actually the WTO Trade Policy Review of India- EU, Japan, Switzerland and the US. Section 2 reviews Japan's recent trade policy, and Section 3 offers an overview of the outcomes of the TPP's negotiations. Section 4 discusses.
